

Draft Supplementary Planning Documents
Contributions to Lifelong Learning – Education and Library Services
March – April 2007

This fact sheet is a quick reference guide to the above draft SPDs, the works carried out so far, the current consultation phase and the next stages in the process towards adopting the document.

The Role and Status of the Above SPDs

These draft SPDs set out the Council's expectations of how developers of residential property will be required to make necessary contributions to the achievement of its objectives to provide first class education services and excellent library facilities. The guidance provides:

- The delivery mechanism for contributions from development. It is clarified that the requirement for small to medium size development will be based upon a formula and for large development, on-site provision may be required.
- The documents also provide details as to how the funds will be monitored, managed and used.
